The Pope's Powerful Message
Wants Wider Income Tax
Arrest Borah, Brookhart
Government Waste

BY ARTHUR BRISBANE

THE WORLD, wherever news is printed, continues to ... the pope's powerful encyclical, his denunciation of ... in industry, accumulation of vast wealth and ... few hands, the frightful ... in industry."

... go a long way back ... utterance containing a ... of power.

... Lamb in his "Flame of ..." describing the Crusades, ... a letter to Pope Innocent ... ption in Tuscany: "As ... greater of the universe, ... great lights in the firmament of Heaven, * * * so He set ... dignitaries in the firmament of the universal church. * * * ... dignitaries are the papal authority and the royal power. And ... as the moon gets her light from the sun and is inferior to the ... so the royal power gets the splendor of its dignity from the papal authority."

The present pope, Pius, proves in his powerful encyclical that the Vatican has lost no part of its feeling of power and responsibility.

SECRETARY MELLON wants an income tax that can be "adjusted to prosperity or depression." By that he means a tax on practically all citizens.

The present income tax he calls "a class tax," since it taxes only the class possessing incomes above a certain amount.

However, all taxation, except head-tax, is class taxation.

Property taxes are laid on the class that has property. The dog tax is laid on the class of dog owners, and automobile taxes on the motoring class.

You can only get money from those that have money, the "money class."

MANY BELIEVE that a "sales tax" such as Canada levies, would be the most productive. It would surely be gigantically productive. But there again you would have class taxation; the biggest families buying most food and clothes, would pay the most. The big family class would be taxed for the protection of the big income class.

It is a difficult problem, but the government must pay its bills; Mr. Mellon must get the money somewhere. And since big incomes have shrunk he cannot get all from them.

PROGRESSIVE REPUBLICANS including Senators Borah and Brookhart, will "invade the wheat belt" in a fight against President Hoover. It is suggested that Senator Borah may compete with President Hoover for the 1932 nomination.

There are at least a few in the wheat belt who know that President Hoover bought enough wheat to keep prices up.

The government's accumulation of nearly 200 million bushels presents a problem. But if the government's wheat were all thrown into the ocean, the farmers would still be better off, in the opinion of some experts.

They say that if the administration had not entered the wheat market and bought, farmers that got 50 cents for their wheat would have got 40 or 50, the difference between wholesale bankruptcy and

'EGGSECUTIVE' RECOMMENDS DIVISION OF U. S. ROUTE 30

Practicing the principle that his constituents could eat eggs but not political cards, Mat Wagner (above) waged a successful campaign for the office of mayor of Winona, Minn., only to be ousted when he was convicted of violating the state corrupt practices act. The former "city eggsecutive," in office for 25 days, has not yet given up the fight to regain his job which was won by distributing eggs for one cent a dozen when they retailed at 18 cents a dozen. Mat's supporters are demanding a special election.

Harding and Lincoln Highways Would Divide Federal Road Traffic.

CITIES PLAN PROTESTS

State Highway Director Favors Northern and Southern Routing.

Division of U. S. highway No. 30 between Mansfield and Delphos was recommended today by the state highway department through its director, O. W. Merrell.

The recommendation was made to the National Highway association and will be acted on at its annual meeting in Chicago next month.

The state highway director would create a north and south U. S. highway No. 30. The two divisions would separate at Mansfield and merge at Delphos.

The present U. S. highway No. 30 passing over the Harding highway through Galion, Marion, Kenton, Lima and Elida would be known as the southern route. The northern route would follow the Lincoln highway through Crestline, Bucyrus, Upper Sandusky, Williamstown, Beaverdam, Cairo and Gomer to Delphos.

Association To Protest

Protests will be filed with Governor White and the National Highway association, according to Carl Gugler of Galion, president of the Harding Highway association. Gugler has not been formally notified of the action of the highway department. He said towns along the Harding highway would be asked to join the association in making the protests.

Cities and villages along the Lincoln highway for several years have been attempting to have U. S. highway No. 30 transferred from the Harding highway. Each move was protested by the Harding Highway association.

The controversy over the national route was again brought into the limelight last January when Robert N. Waid, retiring state highway director, recommended the change.

The request was withdrawn by Director Merrell when cities along the Harding highway protested Waid's action. Division of the national route is seen as a move to satisfy cities along both the Harding and Lincoln highway.

"This move has saved cities along the Harding highway a federal routing," according to Warren J. McLaughlin, executive vice president of the Lima chamber of commerce who conferred with Director Merrell last week.

"The present No. 5, which will become U. S. 30 N, is practically a straight road between Mansfield and Delphos and is shorter than the present No. 30, to become U. S. 30 S," McLaughlin explained.

"But the state highway department, while recommending the two divisions similar to U. S. 50 N and S in southeastern Ohio, has promised the improvement of the southern route to place it in as good condition as the northern route, which is practically all new highway," the executive stated.

DROP MILLER FROM FACULTY

Removal of O. S. U. Professor Follows Fight on Military Rule.

PROTESTS ANTICIPATED

Rumors That Other Professors Will Resign Are Heard.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 25—Professor Herbert A. Miller of the sociology department of Ohio State university, will be dropped from the university teaching staff next year, it became known from reliable sources today. Failure to renew his contract was attributed to his attitude against compulsory military training on the campus.

Professor Miller recently returned from India, where he was closely associated with the nonviolence campaign of Mahatma Gandhi, the Indian revolution leader.

During recent weeks, it was generally reported, Professor Miller had been active in the campaign on the campus against compulsory military training which led last week to a statement from President George W. Rightmire criticizing critics of the university, both faculty and students.

University officials and Professor Miller declined to comment on the failure to renew his teaching contract.

Later in the day it became known that some members of the faculty will protest failure to renew the Miller contract to the American Association of University professors. There was some talk of other professors resigning as a protest.

Miller was notified that the university would not renew his contract by the board of trustees and President Rightmire.

Prof. Miller was threatened with dismissal last year when the trustees disapproved of certain speeches he made in India.

SLAYERS OF FOUR GO TO EXECUTION

Pair Pays Penalty for Dynamiting of Pennsylvania Pay Car.

BELLEFONTE, Pa., May 25—Sigismund Szachewicz, 25, and John Nafus, 28, convicted of murder in the first degree for the killing of four persons in the dynamiting of a coal company pay car at Warior Run in January, 1930, were electrocuted at the Rockview penitentiary today.

Neither of the men showed any emotion. They were convicted nearly a year ago for blowing up a Glen Alden Coal company pay car carrying $32,000.

The four men killed in the dynamiting were Arthur Webb, paymaster; James Shovlin, section foreman; Martin Bruns, section foreman, and Frank Brezinski, a miner.

The crime for which the two men were executed was one of the most daring ever perpetrated in Luzerne county. The paymaster and others were traveling an old box freight car which had been fitted up as a temporary office.

At a point where the railroad entered the mountains, there was a terrific double explosion. The car was blown to pieces and the payroll scattered. A strand of wire was found strung from the scene of the wreck to bushes some distance away.

FOUR MAKE ESCAPE FROM BLAZING CAR

Marion Motorists Crawl to Safety Through Windows as Car Turns Over.

Trapped in a blazing overturned automobile when it skidded from the road two miles east of here last night, four Marionites, including O. A. Benedict, former service director of Marion, and Mrs. Benedict, broke out the windows and crawled to safety a few moments before the car was consumed by flames.

Three Persons Hurt

Three persons sustained severe cuts from broken glass. They are Mr. and Mrs. Rowland Beeman of 141 McWilliams court and George Rinker of 441 Forest street, who went to the aid of the trapped motorists. Beeman was driving the car which left the road when he applied his brakes before attempting to pass Rinker's car parked along the highway. Mr. and Mrs. Beeman were cut while crawling through the broken window. Rinker was badly cut on one leg when he kicked in a window to assist in the rescue. Mr. and Mrs. Benedict were only slightly bruised.

Scarcely had the car landed on its top in the ditch when Benedict, riding in the front seat with Bee-

One Man Killed as Pair Settle Quarrel in Duel

By International News Service.

NEW YORK, May 25—Dr. Joseph T. Loughlin, prominent Brooklyn physician, whose body with a bullet hole behind the right ear and another in the right side, was found in a marshy park, was killed in a pistol duel, authorities believed today. A search was launched for Howard Bridgetts, 30, a commission merchant and second cousin of Dr. Loughlin.

The attorney said the doctor and his wife had planned to separate and that Bridgetts had "carried tales" to Mrs. Loughlin concerning the doctor's acquaintance with other women.

Late Saturday Bridgetts telephoned the doctor reminding him "to keep his appointment." Remarks dropped by Loughlin convinced investigators he had invited Bridgetts "to have it out" and that they had gone to the park to fight a duel.

PAIR REFUSED CITIZENSHIP

Supreme Court Turns Down Yale Man and Nurse for Stand on War Service.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 25—A Yale theology professor and a Canadian war nurse today were refused citizenship by the supreme court because of their scruples against bearing arms in time of war. One was Douglas C. Macintosh, the other Marie A. Bland.

Their cases have been pending before the court for months, citizenship having been held their privilege by a circuit court of appeals.

The decision was close. Five justices favored exclusion, with Chief Justice Hughes and Justice Holmes, Brandeis and Stone dissenting.

Both Macintosh and Miss Bland are Canadians and saw service in France during the World war.

Macintosh would pledge himself to take up arms only if he felt the cause of the United States to be just.

Miss Bland said she would gladly serve as a nurse in any war of the United States but refused to take up arms under any circumstances. Chief Justice Hughes dissented vigorously. He said that congress had not required all applicants for citizenship to take up arms and urged that the religious scruples of those opposing war be respected.

KNIFE WOUNDS FATAL TO PRISON CONVICT

Maryland Stabbling Victim Due for Release After 10-Year Sentence.

By The Associated Press

BALTIMORE, May 25—A blood transfusion and oxygen failed to save the life of Frank L. Allers, 35-year-old Maryland penitentiary inmate, stabbed twice in the back in the prison wash room Sunday afternoon, 48 hours before his release after serving a 10-year sentence for larceny. He died this morning.

In 1922 his testimony as state's witness sent four men to the penitentiary for life for the murder of William A. Norris, Baltimore contractor during a holdup. Allers admitted he was the driver of the car used in the holdup but was promised immunity if he turned informer.

He was attacked while taking a shower bath. His assailant, creeping up from behind, drove a knife with a six-inch blade between his shoulders, withdrew it and plunged it in again, this time into the spine.

SNOW STORM IS BLAMED

Seven Fliers Lose Lives in Series of Week-End Airplane Wrecks.

By The Associated Press

BELLEFONTE, Pa., May 25—His plane caught in the fury of a post-winter snow storm on the peak of Nittany mountain, near here, Air Mail Pilot James D. Cleveland, crashed to his death, yesterday while flames from his burning ship reddening the night sky, signaled attendants awaiting him at a nearby airport.

The pilot's charred body, wedged in the twisted, blackened cockpit, was reached five hours later.

Cleveland failed by inches to clear the rugged peak, just beyond which lay the Bellefonte airport, his destination, according to airport workers who viewed the scene of the wreck.

Fearing the pilot might have crashed in the pelting rain and snow and the furious wind, the searchers set out for the mountain top immediately. The crash occurred at 12:50 a. m.

Officials of the National Air Transport, operators of the air mail line, said they were as yet unable to estimate the value of the 1,000 pounds of mail consumed by the flames in Cleveland's plane.

Ohio Hits Back at Georgia in Truck License Fee War

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 25—Ohio will continue to compel trucks from Georgia to buy Ohio license tags any time they are caught in the state, Col. Chalmers P. Wilson, chief of the bureau of motor vehicle registration, said today upon his return from New Jersey.

FOUR INMATES WOUNDED

National Guardsmen Patrol Barbed Wire Enclosure After Quelling of Rioters.

By The Associated Press

VANDALIA, Ill., May 25—National guardsmen and highway police were today patrolling the barbed-wire enclosure of the Vandalia state penal farm, where last night for two hours 600 prisoners, all minor offenders, fiercely battled a small group of guards.

Four wooden dormitories, fired by the rioters, lay in ashes. Windows in the administration building and dining hall were shattered. Supt. C. A. Metzger estimated the total damage at $10,000.

With order restored national guardsmen were ordered home today.

Col. Frank Whipp, superintendent of state prisons, said everything was orderly and that he expected no more trouble.

Four prisoners, whose failure to escape started the rioting, were held in the county jail, three of them were wounded. Another prisoner, Clifford Ikes, was hit by a stray bullet as he stood inside the fence.

Superintendent C. A. Metzger of the farm said Ikes had no part in the jail break attempt.

Quite a number of the 600 inmates, all under sentences of less than a year, have been sullen for several days, Metzger said. About a week ago the superintendent said he was tipped off that an escape had been planned. Metzger stationed guards in a corn field adjoining the outer fence.

Pass Barbed Wire Fence

Last evening four men, Charles J. Rogers, William D. Simonus, Arthur Regan and Charles Lewis, scaled the inner five-foot barbed wire fence with a ladder, which they then placed against the outer 12-foot barbed wire fence.

As the last of the four jumped to the ground, Metzger said, the guards came out of hiding. After an unheeded cry of "halt" the guards fired. The four men, three of whom were wounded, surrendered.

The rest of the state farm prisoners were roaming about inside the stockade, according to Metzger, watching the escape. One of them pressed close to the inner fence and fell when a stray bullet fired by the guards outside inflicted a slight flesh wound.

This served as a signal for the general outbreak. With a roar the prisoners began hurling rocks at the guards, who, despite them, marched the quartet down the fence, through a passageway and into the administration building. With this the prisoners directed their rocks at the offices and the dining halls.

A small group broke away, rushed to dormitory No. 4, Metzger said, tore straw from mattresses, and set fire to it. The blaze spread quickly. The fire leaped quickly to three adjoining wooden structures.

William Koontz, catcher for the Morral baseball team in the Rural Community league, suffered a fractured skull when he was hit by a pitched ball while batting in a game yesterday afternoon between the Morral team and Hilliards, a surburban team from Columbus, at Lincoln park.

He was taken to the Frederick C. Smith clinic for X-ray examination, and later was removed to his home in the J. T. Lucas ambulance.

Koontz spent a restless night but was reported to be in a more comfortable condition this morning.

The game was continued after the accident, with McIntire, left-fielder on the Morral team, substituting for Koontz. Koontz has been catcher with the team this season and played all last season.

His satisfaction over the progress made in the first half day of work was expressed by W. E. Edmund, campaign director, at the report luncheon this noon. Daily report luncheons will be held each noon until the drive ends Friday.

A Vernon Heights school quartet composed of William Smith, Emil Delly, James Lewis, and George Harden, accompanied by Ruth Turner, furnished several songs after the luncheon today.

CARPENTER, BOZINIS TOP SHOVEL MAT BILL

Roughneck Bouts To Feature Weekly Wrestling Program; Lumpkin in Semi-Final.

Fans who like wrestling to provide them with enough excitement to last them throughout the week are looking forward to an interesting session at the Steam Shovel gym tonight.

Ray Carpenter, the Lancaster matman who seem to be unusually handy with his mitts, will meet Nick Bozinis in the main-go attraction arranged by promoters.

The two are being brought together for the first time here and Carpenter is ruling as favorite with the fans to win. Bozinis, however, is a rough and ready little Greek quite capable of taking everything Ray has to offer in addition to putting out plenty himself.

In the semi-final Clyde Robinson will tangle with "Father" Lumpkin, the ramblin' Georgia Tech grid star. Lumpkin is developing into one of the roughnecks of the mat and will give Robinson plenty to think about. They will wrestle an hour.

A preliminary will complete the bill. The bouts will start at 8:30 p. m.

Nineteen Clashes Slated; St. Paul-Christian No. 1 Battle Today.

If the weatherman can be persuaded to withhold for one entire week the downpours which at almost regular intervals have been drenching city baseball diamonds, Marion recreation baseball fans are due to witness one of the best weeks of soft ball which will be presented here during the 1931 season. There are a total of 19 games booked and nearly all of them look like they would produce interesting competition.

It is impossible to say which particular game will be the best. There are any number which promise to be bitterly fought, and the results of several are likely to do much toward determining the final standings of the teams.

Seek New Laurels

Two of the tail-enders of the 1930 season in the No. 2 Sunday school circuit which have been going strong to date this year will be making a supreme effort to prolong their winning streaks in today's games. They are St. Paul Lutheran and First Reformed. Both finished low in the league last year and both were picked to do the same this year. However, both have looked better than expected so far this season.

St. Paul's game with Central Christian No. 1 will headline the four game bill today. If the Lutherans can hurdle this difficult obstacle there is certain to be a revision of forecasts as to final standings of the league. Forest Lawn will meet another tough foe in the person of Christian Seniors. Both have won one and lost one so a berth in the first division looms for the winner while a second half past yawns for the defeated.

The "Croocial" Battle

The first of the really "croocial" games of the season will be pulled off Tuesday when St. Mary's rampaging Irish clash with the undefeated Trinity Baptists on President's field. The winner of this game will become a heavy favorite to win the league title. It will be Applegett against Gunder on the mound, thus pitting two of the smoothest working hurlers uncovered so far this season. There is little to pick between the two. Both teams are tough! What a battle this should be!

Another of two undefeated teams are due to hit the skids Tuesday as the Epworth Bishops collide with the Calvary Evangelical nine at the Shovel field. The Bishops have played but one game and won it while Calvary has two victories to its credit. It promises to be another one of those nip and tuck affairs.

The Commercial league games of Friday, May 22, which were postponed because of rain will be played Wednesday. The K. of P. vs. Kappas game and Company B vs. Serv-U-Wel encounter vie for honors on this day.

Battle For Top

The C., D. & M. Electricians and Huber Manufacturing company of the Industrial league will settle the question of who is going to hold first place for at least a week on Thursday. They are the only undefeated teams of the circuit, even though only two games have been played. Another battle royal is likely to result when these rivals for honors clash at Garfield park.

The Commercial league does not boast any outstanding attractions this week, although the game between Company B and Erie Traffic club may be tougher than expected. Most of the stronger teams are meeting the weaker ones so nothing sensational is expected. It might be well to remember the fact that the same situation prevailed in the Industrial league last week and three of the four favorites took it on the chin. Sure things? They don't make 'em in Marion softball!

WESTERN CLUBS IN BATTLE FOR SECOND DIVISION POSITIONS

Eastern Teams Running Away with Race in American Baseball Circuit.

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Since the collapse of Cleveland's early bid for fame, the four western clubs of the American league have become involved in a real struggle for the places open to them behind the flying eastern leaders.

Detroit, Chicago, St. Louis and Cleveland come in that order in todays standing from fourth to seventh place, but only a game and a half separates the Tigers from the trailing Indians.

Detroit was down in the second division for a while yesterday after losing the first game of a double header to the St. Louis Browns but came back by winning the second contest. The Tiger losing streak ran to eight straight games in the opener as Walter Stewart held them to six hits to win his fifth victory of the season by a 10-3 count. Tommy Bridges, youthful Detroit moundsman broke the spell by shutting out all the Browns except Goose Goslin, who clouted a homer. Bridges won the game 3 to 1.

Tribe Loses Two

The White Sox are even with Detroit in games but a few points behind after a double victory over Cleveland. Ted Lyons won the first game 4-3, besting Clint Brown although he allowed three more hits and Pat Caraway outpitched Fay Thomas, granting only five hits for a 3-2 victory.

The Philadelphia Athletics continued their runaway by handing the New York Yankees a 7 to 3 setback in a game marked by home runs. Babe Ruth and Jimmy Foxx hit their sixth four baggers of the year. Washington placed itself only half a game behind the Yanks by beating out Boston 10 to 9 after holding off a Red Sox rally that put the tying run on base in the ninth.

Pirates Beat Cubs

Pittsburgh's Pirates brought about the only change in the National league standing, climbing over the Chicago Cubs into fourth place with a 10 to 7 victory.

Cincinnati after losing 18 straight games to St. Louis in two seasons, finally stepped out and won one. They took the first game of a double header 3-2 in a mound duel between Si Johnson and Burleigh Grimes. But they could not hold the pace and lost the second to Jess Haines, by a 13-6 count.

The New York Giants and Boston Braves said it with bats in the first game and with pitchers in the second. The Giants pounded out a 10-7 triumph in the opener as Will Sherdel weakened in the ninth inning then Ed Brandt bested Fred Fitzsimmons in a six inning duel to win 2 to 0.

The Phillies got the jump on Brooklyn but could not hold it. The Robins came from behind to tie the score in the ninth inning and won out 6-5 in the tnoth on Gilbert's double and Finn's single off Ray Benge.

ONE GOOD THING ABOUT SOPHIE HOOFER'S REMODELED FACE IS THAT SHE HAS GIVEN THE NEIGHBORS SOMETHING TO TALK ABOUT!
I CERTAINLY DO LOOK DIFFERENT NOW! IN FACT, I HAD TO TOSS A VASE AT COLONEL HOOFER TO CONVINCE HIM THAT I'M HIS WIFE! HE WON'T CALL ME "GRANNY" AGAIN IN A HURRY! IF HE DOESN'T SHAVE OFF HIS OLD WHISKERS PEOPLE WILL THINK HE'S MY FATHER!
BEAUTY SURE IS A SKIN GAME! ONCE SOPHIE WENT INTO A BEAUTY SHOP AS A BRUNETTE, AND CAME OUT A BLONDE! NOW THEY'VE CHANGED HER INTO A CO-ED!. SHE LOOKS SO DIFFERENT I'M THINKING OF TAKING HER ON A SECOND HONEY-MOON!
JUST WHEN I WAS GETTING READY TO SPILL THE DIRT ABOUT COLONEL HOOFER CHASING AROUND WITH A STRANGE WOMAN IT TURNS OUT THAT THE WOMAN IS HIS WIFE WITH A NEW FACE! HOW DISGUSTING!

Theater News And Reviews

"THE PUBLIC ENEMY" SHOWS AT OHIO

James Cagney does a great piece of acting as "Tom Powers," public enemy in the show which is the name appearing at the Ohio tonight, Tuesday and Wednesday. Don't visit the theater to see Jean Harlow. She's there from a wardrobe point of view but as an actress spot in the show she's just a passing fancy of Tom Powers.

The story is of two boys reared in the pre-war slums of a big city. Their first money is from a racketeer who pays them for shophifting and beer barons rise out of the aftermath of war, and the two boys are in the thick of it. Both of them "get theirs" and the picture comes to a logical, grim end.—H. H.

MARY PICKFORD AT MARION

"America's Sweetheart" Sally Hoyden. Mary Pickford should have done "Kiki," at the Marion tonight and Tuesday. She is out for fame on an altogether different type of role, and this is a drastic a change.

There are times when the story is amusing, but through most of the action's lost in trying to figure out Mary Pickford making "Kiki."

Sweet corn from 40 to 60 cents a dozen, was a new offering of dealers Saturday. The supply was not large and while the quality was good, few buyers took advantage of the early season offering Prices in many cases had resumed their normal level today after a variety of specials Saturday.

Supplies continue to be ample, dealers were restocking today after the usual week-end buying and prices showed but little change from last week. New peas and beans continue plentiful and were selling today at from 15 to 18 cents a pound. New potatoes continue low in spite of predictions of an advance made by dealers last week, today found no advance in prices. The supply is large and up until the time of the price slump, the demand had been light, resulting in an oversupply, and since new potatoes are not good "keepers' it was necessary for dealers to move them or suffer a loss.

GRAINS CAUSE PRICE SLUMP

Corn and Wheat Average Lower on Moisture Reports from Kansas.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO May 25—Influenced by reports that rains had checked crop deterioration in western Kansas and elsewhere southwest, wheat and corn averaged lower today July wheat established a new low price record for the season. Opening at ⅝ cents off to ¼ up, wheat afterward rallied. Corn started ⅛@1 lower, and subsequently held near to the initial range

At first, wheat sympathized with stock market weakness and with corn price downturns that outdid the season's previous bottom figures Later, however wheat responded to word of continued dearth of moisture in spring crop territory, northwest both sides of the Canadian boundary. Spring wheat growth was reported as delayed by drouth and low temperatures with many sections in urgent need of drenching downpours.

Advices from the Texas panhandle, where the new 1931 wheat harvest was expected to begin this week, said heavy crop damage had been done by cut worms On the other hand, export demand for North American wheat was slack, owing to a holiday in Liverpool. Corn market setbacks were associated with favorable weather conditions for field work over the corn belt. December corn touched within 2 cents of the low record reached in 1921 Oats were responsive to the action of corn.

Provision held steady, in line with hog values.

SALES DECLINE

Some Auto Factories Begin To Curtail Output, Is Report.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, May 25—Dow, Jones & Co., in a special dispatch from Detroit, says sales of automobiles have begun to decline and while some companies will adhere to previously established schedules for May, a few have begun to curtail operations.

It is likely that operating schedules for June will be revised downward unless retail products for the second 10-day period of May show a change in trend over the first 10 days of the month. A number of executives cling to the hope that the seasonal decline will be less pronounced than heretofore, but there is an admission in several quarters that "something seems to have hit the sales curve within the past 10 days"

Dr. Turley Lists Life's Prizes Before Seniors

Epworth M. E. Church Pastor Preaches Graduation Sermon for Harding High School Class; Auditorium Filled to Capacity for Services.

"Next Friday night the members of this class of 1931 of Harding High school will win one of life's prizes was one of the opening statements of Dr. C. E Turley in the commencement sermon last night at Epworth M E church The sermon subject was 'Winning Life's Best Prizes'

The church was filled to capacity with all standing room taken and with many turned away. The altar was banked with baskets of spring flowers

Four questions the answers of which largely determine the value of the prizes to be won by the graduates, were suggested by Dr Turley. The questions were "Do you read and have you formed an appreciation of good books?" "Have you cultivated a cheerful hopeful spirit?" "Have you formed a well defined purpose in life?" "Do you realize that the pathway to greatness is the pathway of service?"

"Members of the graduating class: you owe it to yourselves, to your parents, to your teachers, to society that has made possible these days of preparation, to do and be your best Give some time to the development of your spiritual life In the midst of the mad rush of things, in the presence and the lure of the pleasures of time and sense, surrounded by all the thrill and excitement of this machine age of ours, do not forget that you have a soul," Dr. Turley warned the 220 students in caps and gowns who filled a reserved section of the center pews

"If you graduates will take the motto, 'Go Forward' more of life's prized will be yours

"Books are the tools of the mind They are the storehouse of the products of the great minds of the present and past Books make us the citizens of every age and the observers of the customs of every country. Poetry philosophy art history, science biography, all are ours through books Dr Turley said in speaking of the first question suggested.

Enlarging upon the second question, he said Man was not made just to mourn Live your lives in the sunlight There is as much religion in a laugh as in a cry Cultivate a cheerful optimistic spirit'

In speaking of the third question on a purpose in life Dr Turley said 'Hannibal of Carthage, Cato of Rome, Wolfe Pitt Disraeli of England all manifested the power of a well defined purpose in the success that come to them

On the last question of service his words were 'Life is not worth what we get out of it but what we put into it Time spent in service will add to your self-respect will bring real joy and happiness, will be helpful to others and will glorify God"

"In a few short years, life will be over Then the characters you form, the life you build will keep pace with the eternal years of God"

Marion War Veterans Pay Tribute to Dead Comrades

Dr. C. E. Turley Preaches Annual Sermon to Soldiers of Three Wars at Epworth M. E. Church; G. A. R. Post Commander Calls Roll of Deceased Members.

Scores of Marion residents and members of the various patriotic organizations of the city joined with veterans of Cooper Post 117 G. A. R. in paying tribute to their soldier dead in their annual memorial service yesterday morning at Epworth M. E. church. Flags and flowers in red, white and blue decorated the altar and the sermon was delivered by the pastor, Dr. C. E. Turley. An organ prelude with patriotic airs as its theme was played by Miss Maye Evangeline Lawrence and members of the choir under the direction of Knox Dunlop, contributed the musical program.

Headed by the colors and the fife and drum and in command of Commander Francis Layton of Cooper post, the comrades, and members of the Daughters of Veterans, Women's Relief corps, Betsy Ross auxiliary, Spanish War veterans, American Legion and Boy Scouts marched from the courthouse to the church, and following the service marched back to the courthouse where they disbanded.

Only five members of the post were present to honor their comrades as Commander Francis Layton called the names of comrades whose deaths have occurred since the last memorial Sunday services. As the names were called by Commander Layton a lily was placed in a vase by Mrs. D. E. Montgomery, patriotic instructor of the post and a brief tribute paid each by John H. Clark. Comrades taking part in the services were J. D. Hosler, Michael Click, David Seas and James Reynolds. Comrades who have died in the last year were Elmer St. John of Company G, 64th regiment, O. V. I., Abraham Drake, Company I, 121st regiment, O. V. I., Colonel George B. Christian of Company B, Indiana batallion, G. W. Balding, Company H, 15th regiment, O. V. I., and Commander Charles Wiley, Company F, 11th infantry, Pennsylvania.

With unstinted praise Dr. Turley paid a high tribute to the founders of the United States and the men who took part in its preservation throughout the years, in his sermon, "Why I Am Glad I Am an American." He cited America's richness in ideals and personalities in the preservation of its shrines and voiced his belief in the preservation of these through America's school system.

"I believe America will go on to its manifest destination, and the best way to honor the defenders of the republic is to emphasize these ideals for which the republic stands and pledge anew our willingness to sacrifice for this nation which will go on and on," Dr. Turley said in closing his sermon.

SLAYER BASES HOPE FOR LIFE ON APPEAL

James Romeo of Canton To Ask Gov. White for Executive Clemency.

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., May 25—James Romeo of Canton pinned his last hope on an appeal for executive clemency as he prepared to surrender his life in the electric chair at Ohio penitentiary tonight.

He was sentenced to die for the slaying of Charles Riblet, 68-year-old bank messenger. Governor George White, who granted Romeo a 30-day reprieve last month, took the case under advisement Saturday and said he would render his final decision after a hearing today.

Last month's respite was granted to allow Romeo's attorney, Ed Scheck, to investigate new evidence which he said would absolve his client of any connection with the crime. The evidence, he told the governor, would show Romeo was a victim of mistaken identity.

Riblet was killed during a gun battle with two robbers in a Canton street. Ones of the robber escaped after taking $60,000 carried by the messenger. The other was killed by Riblet as he fell mortally wounded. The money was found in a room occupied by Romeo

PRESIDENT HOOVER, in his absoutely necessary campaign of national economy, consults Postmaster General Brown and the four assistant postmasters general.

The postoffice deficit is expected to reach $140,000,000, too much probably, although it makes little difference whether the people pay more for stamps or for taxes.

One wise economy would cut off 80 per cent of the useless "franking" by congressmen and others.

The congressman with his free postage bores his constituents with dull printed matter, and the constituents pay the bill.

President Hoover, when he took office, voluntarily gave up the presidential yacht Mayflower.

Congressmen might give up their postoffice waste.

It would not save $140,000,000, but it would set a good example

Hundreds of thousands waited in the rain on Saturday to see the army's fine display of airplanes. The government knows now, if it did not know before, that the people are really interested in airplane defense.

The spending of a few tens of millions on fighting aircraft and submarines would make possible the saving of many hundreds of millions now wasted on antiquated defense.

How long will the country continue spending hundreds of millions on useless floating targets for enemy planes?

separated by only 12 feet. The heat wrecked the high tension wires, disrupting the electrical current. There was only the dull red glow from the burning structures by which to quell the riot.

Firemen Arrive

While the guards battled in vain with the prisoners, who were still hurling rocks, the Vandalia fire department arrived, and began keeping the flames from spreading to other buildings.

Meanwhile Superintendent Metzger, who was visiting friends in Vandalia, rushed to the farm. Taking charge, he ordered the prisoners to the southwest corner of the stockade.

The prisoners meekly complied, Metzger said.

Rum Bill Far Above 1914 Total, Wet Group Asserts

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 25—An "analysis of America's drink bill" by the Association Against the Prohibition Amefidment estimates people in the United States are spending upward of $1,000,000,000 a year more for liquors than in 1914.

The association's research department concluded yesterday the "illicit liquor business has become one of America's major industries." It said the people now are spending $2,848,000,000 annually for intoxicating beverages compared with the $2,793,166,812 wholesale figure for passenger automobiles in 1929.

The expenditures were divided as follows: spirits $2,200,000,000 as against $663,000,000 in 1914; malt liquors $395,000,000 compared with $1,032,000,000 and wines $252,000,000 against $124,000,000.

Comparatively little weight was given in the calculations, the association said, to "prices paid for liquor in speakeasies or to the fancy liquors purchased from city bootleggers." It added it believed the $2,848,000,000 estimate "conservative."

"The makeup of liquor consumption has shifted considerably under prohibition," the report continued "We have greatly increased our per capita consumption of spirits.

"It is impossible to conjecture how much of the present drink bill goes to excessive profits of gangsters and gunmen, and how much of it is paid in wages and salaries to the unlawful operators," the statement said.

man, broke out a window of the rear part of the sedan with his elbow. He assisted Mrs. Beeman and Mrs. Benedict from the sedan as flames broke out in both the front and rear parts of the car.

Gas Tank Explodes

Rinker kicked in a glass on the other side of the car and helped Beeman to safety. All had left the car only a few minutes when the gasoline tank exploded. The car was destroyed by flames.

Passing motorists brought the occupants of the car and Rinker to Marion where Mr. and Mrs. Beeman and Rinker were treated for their cuts at the Dr. F. C. Smith clinic.

Beeman lost control of the car when he had applied the brakes after seeing Rinker's car parked along the road. The brakes took hold unevenly on the wet pavement, causing the car to skid. Rinker's car had stopped after the supply of gasoline was exhausted.

THE PENALTY of GRAY HAIR

Gray hair—age—slipping. All these unpleasant ideas seem to go together. Yet, it is not at all necessary. Gray Hair often comes to a young head and people who have it are neither old nor incapable. But how often you hear people say, "Why, she has gray hair!" and—she is on the shelf.

This penalty need no longer handicap the woman who uses Canute Water. This is a clear, spring-like water of wonderful properties which actually restore hair to its original girlhood color. No complicated "color plan"; no danger of getting brunette shade when your hair is blonde. Not only the one kind but the one bottle is enough. It really is surprising what successful, youthifying results it gives.

Apply canute Water yourself, in the privacy of your own home. Many women in town are doing the same thing; they simply do not mention it. You need not mention it either. Just buy a bottle from any good druggist—and "get rid of the "age penalty" in gray hair. Canute Water is so safe, so scientific and sure that your dealer knows it will satisfy you; if not, he will refund your money. Sold and recommended by ECKERD DRUG or your own druggist.—The Canute Co., Milwaukee, Wis.—Adv.

SHOWS FARM PRICE DECLINE

Same as with Other Commodities, Bureau Analyst Finds.

By the Associated Press

Columbus, O., May 25—Farm prices declined in price in the same proportion as other prices during the last year, L. J. West, research director of the Ohio Farm Bureau, declares. Farm prices, he declares, are both lower and approximately the same ratio holds for the prices of all commodities. The farm price index is 33 points under the index of 126 a year ago. The index for all commodities stands 28 points under last year's level of 132.

Based on these index figures, farm products, West says, have declined somewhat more than have general wholesale prices, but the difference is not great.

"Farm products, on the other hand," he continued, "have suffered more in comparison with 1913 price levels than have other products. The farm index stands at around 93 as compared with 100 for the earlier period. In other words, farm prices are seven points under the pre-war level while the average of all wholesale prices is four points under the pre-war level.

"In applying these comparisons to an estimate of the financial condition of the farmer, it must be remembered that these figures are the farmers' selling price because the farmer, as a rule, sells on wholesale market. Since retail prices have not declined in proportion to wholesale prices, the situation of the farmer is not so favorable as these comparisons would indicate.

"Food prices stand about at 110 as compared with 100 in 1913. Into these food prices enter such imported items as coffee, which is quoted wholesale at 6¾ cents as against 9¾ cents a year ago. After omitting the imported food items, it appears that the raw food materials as purchased from the farm are nearly seven points under the former prices while manufactured food prices are 10 points above the same level. This makes a difference against the farmer of about 17 points in the relative position of prices for farm products and the wholesale selling price for food products.

The Disabled American Veterans of the World War

The necessity of an organization or agency to devote its entire time and strength to the problems of the disabled of the World War, prompted the formation of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War in Cincinnati, O., by a group of disabled veterans in March, 1920. The D. A. V., is the only national organization with a membership composed entirely of wounded, gassed or disabled soldiers, sailors, marines and women who served the colors in 1917-18.

PURPOSE OF ORGANIZATION

From Cincinnati the organization spread through its units known as chapters to 45 states in the Union and is now represented by its members in every state and territory and in most foreign countries. Chapters are founded upon a spirit of fellowship, comradeship, mutual aid and co-operation and many own and operate their own club rooms where social rehabilitation has been a chief accomplishment. Contact, service and co-operative officers are employed by practically every unit to care for the local needs. The D. A. R. has only one plank in its platform, that being "Help the disabled."

The Stars Say—

For Tuesday, May 26

THE sideral operations for this day incite to very lively and enterprising conditions, with much stirring in the direction of new projects and bold initiative. These may involve a radical change in affairs and environment and this may react unfavorably on personal affiliations. Also augurries are not too encouraging as to financial returns. If in connection with lands, real property, or with old established concerns, all may thrive if caution be taken with contracts or agreements.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of decided change, with much stirring in connection with launching of bold ventures and enterprises. But financial prospects are not too well fortified and certain dangers accompany new contracts, unless particular precaution be taken. A child born on this day should be resourceful, skilful, original, adventurous and bold and should attain great heights in individual effort, but withal may be practical, industrious and steadfast.

Four Persons Taken in Liquor Raids Plead Guilty in Court.

Fines totaling $650 were assessed by Municipal Judge W. R. Martin Saturday against four of the six persons caught in the police raid Friday and held on the charges of illegal possession. Two pleaded not guilty and their hearings were set for today.

Lula Walker, colored, the first to fall into the hands of the police Friday morning, was fined $100 and costs. She was arrested while delivering a quart of alleged whisky on Kenton avenue is being held for payment of the fine.

Arthur Mills, the second to fall into the hands of the police after they had found nearly 300 bottles of beer and a quantity of whisky at his home, pleaded not guilty and his hearing was set for today. Joe Lupeeke paid a fine of $200 and costs after he had entered a plea of guilty. Five barrels of wine and 65 bottles of beer were found by the police at the Lupeeka home.

Harry Rentichler of 395 Leader street, was fined $150 and costs when he entered a plea of guilty. Three quarts of whisky were found by the police at Rentichler's home. He paid and was released. John Blue at whose home the police discovered four five-gallon cans of whisky, was fined $200 and costs when he pleaded guilty to illegal possession. He is being held pending payment of the fine. Anna Guluizza of 896 Kenton avenue, whose home, the police said, yielded 72 bottles of beer and a small quantity of liquor, also entered a plea of not guilty and hearing was set for today.

Daily Proverb—"Envy is an awkward homage that inferiority pays to merit."

"Pacificists Open Drive on Hoc " To Reduce Navy"—Headline. "Open!" When did their drive ever close?

An Ohio fundamentalist pastor charges that the modernists are "fixing up God to go into good society." It will pass as an apt remark, but its propriety certainly is open to question.

April building permits issued in 340 cities of the country amounting to $161,709,271, showed a 6.2 per cent. increase over those of the preceding month. Not so good a showing as it might be, but one not to be despised.

A young woman of West Frankfort, Illinois, is suffering from blood-poisoning caused by eyebrow plucking. What a benighted spot that must be that the girls out there do not know by this time that even the girls in Darkest Africa whose ancestors originated the fashion are giving it up.

Canton has just entertained a two-day convention of the National Federation of Men's Bible Classes, which we sincerely hope has worked great benefit to our good friends over there.

The chairman of the federal radio commission has announced that there will be serious question about the renewing of the licenses of broadcasting stations operating mainly for profit and permitting "excessive and nauseating" advertising. Evidently he has been listening in and suffered with the rest of humanity.

James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, denounces the cutting of wages of steel workers by "the companies in the breadlines." Farrell's "the companies in the breadlines," to our way of thinking, is a mighty clever shot at some of his competitors.

Another "largest still" has been seized by federal agents in the loft of a Sutton Place garage in New York City. The location is decidedly "Ritzy," but the term, "largest still," plainly shows that it was of just the plain, commonplace variety usually seized by the law-enforcers of Mr. Woodcock's bureau.

If the situation down in Ohio State is truly reflected by the statement of President George W. Rightmire, there is call for some changes of the faculty down there and some effective housecleaning in the student body.

Fixed fines to be administered on the spot for street littering having been suggested in New York City, one precinct police captain remarked that if a park policeman collected a quarter from every litter thrower "he would need ten more policemen to keep him from being held up at the end of his tour of duty." We take it that New Yorkers either are very careless about the appearance of their city or that the criminal world has achieved a marked growth under Tammany rule.

From Clerk to Commissioner.

Something of vital importance to Tammany Hall has happened in New York. The thousands who are watching that hoary organization with interest to see what defense it will put up against investigation of its operations are seeking an interpretation.

John McKenzie, chief clerk of the dock department, has been appointed dock commissioner by Mayor Walker. The post is one that is coveted proverbially by Tammany appointees, but Mr. McKenzie, strangely, is not a Tammany man. He has been a factual expert in Concerning Railroad Rates.

The federal government never has allowed the railroads to get far out of its sight. It gave them their start, it coddled them along through infancy, and when it needed their youthful strength during the late war, appropriated it. Now, the railroads east of the Mississippi are turning to their lifelong guardian and saying: "You've made us what we are. You've prevented us from growing too strong. What are you going to do now to prevent us becoming too weak? Give us a chance and you'll never regret it. We'll break the depression for you if you'll let us raise rates and get back on our feet." A well-turned speech—one that places a mighty responsibility on the interstate commerce commission, which will answer it.

Should rates be raised as the railroads request? Could the railroads, as they claim, really break the depression if they were enabled to get back on their feet by rate increases? Or it is just a scheme to get favors by pulling a long face at a time when every one is full of sympathy?

The interstate commerce commission will have to decide these matters. It knows that its restrictions have prevented railroads from piling up surpluses to tide them over hard times. It knows they are facing formidable competition in the form of pipe lines, high-power electric lines, waterways, motor trucks, buses and airplanes—competition which is not held in check by federal legislation. It knows that railroads have experienced a heavy decline in gross and net earnings as a result of the economic depression, and that they have "staggered" employment and decreased their operating force one-third in what seems to be a vain attempt to avoid wage-cutting and to minimize unemployment. Most important of all, the commission knows that the railroads are capable of being the nation's heaviest buyer, and that they must not be allowed to fall a needless sacrifice to their hungry competitors. Their present difficulties, whether exaggerated or not, are real and must be given consideration. No one can foresee a time when railroads will not be the backbone of the nation's transportation, and they must be kept healthy.

The interstate commerce commission may or may not decide to grant the railroads the rate increases they seek to put them on their feet. That decision rests exclusively with expert judgment. Regardless of the outcome of the railroads' move to get aid, however, the legislative branch of the federal government will do well to recognize a widespread demand for a national transportation policy to coordinate the agencies of transportation to insure that each will operate on an equitable basis compared with the others, and to promote the development of a complete system of national transportation along lines of genuine economy. The railroads are the principal transportation arteries of America. If they are allowed to harden, the rest of the system will be weakened proportionately.

According to a Stalingrad dispatch, the big Russian tractor plant is showing a waste of eighty per cent., and instead of turning out 50,000 tractors a year is turning out an average of twenty-two a day, and they have to be pulled out of the factory by horses. Seemingly it needs more than machinery and expert engineers to produce machinery.

Mr. Lewis Again.

How drab life is in danger of becoming if Sinclair Lewis ever keeps his promise to sidestep city lights and stay out in the country. A good story a week is assured whenever Mr. Lewis strays off his rural reservation

A few days ago he stopped off at the new Sterling library of Yale university. He was announced. The librarian appeared.

"Have you a permanent loan?" inquired Mr Lewis.

The librarian was puzzled. Mr. Lewis became irascible. "I mean a place where you show coins and medals and things. I was thinking about a medal," he expostulated.

The librarian offered to show him the coin exhibit. "No, I don't want to see it," said Mr. Lewis, who left abruptly.

The next day he aired what had grown into a first-class pout. It seems he was trying to give away his Nobel prize medal, though how the librarian was supposed to guess his intention is a problem for the psychoanalysts. Perhaps he wasn't. Perhaps Mr. Lewis didn't like the librarian's looks and made a deliberate attempt to be obscure. He did very nicely at any rate.

The disposition of the medal is its owner's problem, of course. On the whole, however, those who think Sinclair Lewis is quite a fellow are glad he has bungled one easy solution of it. Such instances of the queer things that some individuals in the spotlight seem to delight in doing are real consolation for being a nonentity.

Editorial Opinion.

THE DECLINE OF DISCONTENT.

The minute jobs increase in Germany, according to the legal adviser of the Berlin chamber of commerce, Dr. Fritz Demuth, who was in Detroit last week, Adolf Hitler's political splurge "will become merely history. It is," said Dr. Demuth, "youth's discontent with an order which it blames for the widespread unemployment."

Can not a similar prophecy be made, with reasonable assurance, with respect to numerous other manifestations of discontent with the existing order of things in other countries than Germany?

The rise of the Hitlerites from twelve seats in the reichstag in 1928 to 107 seats in 1930 was meteoric—across the Rhine it was at first regarded as a portent of ill omen; but already it has lost much of its power to alarm. Chancellor Bruening and the grim old president of the reich have done much to clip Adolf's wings, with the support of the preponderant Social Democrats and other moderate groups. Only the movement for a customs union with Austria at all parallels any one of the twenty-five planks in the Fascist program for rescuing Germany from its present economic and political dilemma. The rest of this political crazy-quilt, which had been patched together from fascism, socialism and even bolshevism, was promptly rolled up by the reichstag and tabled.

A fundamental weakness of Hitlerism was its attempt to cover too much ground. The ingenious young inventor of its slogans made too many incompatible promises. Anything from tearing up the treaty of Versailles to socializing industry and expelling the Jews from Germany, which could attract another discontented element to his camp, was dangled before a section of the electorate which he hypnotized by his magnetic personality and the "apostolic fervor" of his acrobatic oratory. When it was discovered that in practice the oil of ultra-nationalism could not be made to mix with the water of communism people began to analyze his panacea, which they had swallowed before the last elections without question, and to find it not only fallible, but nonsensical.

The same process is going on in other countries. The serious dislocation of the world's economic structure by the war and its aftermath produced a depression that started people thinking; and as is usually the case after such upheavals, certain elements have carried their search for a remedy into impractical corners. Adversity breeds discontent and a desire for change. All the consequences of this artificially stimulated thought are not bad. Good may come from some of it. The froth will disappear with the result of normal conditions. The only danger is in permitting the extremists to mess up things so as to postpone or prevent the return of better times, when discontent will starve for lack of the thing that brings into being and sustains it.—Detroit Free Press.

The "Difficult" Age.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

From forty-five to fifty-five years of age is a difficult period for men and women. It is at this time of life that the individual is tested for his fitness to continue in the race.

As middle-age is approached, there is a tendency to decreased physical exertion and increased nervous activity. In spite of the fact that the body needs less food, there is usually an increase in its consumption. This is due to habit and not to need.

The body does not use as much of the nourishment for energy as it did in youth and early adult life. As a result, the nourishment obtained is accumulated in the body in the form of fat. This explains the tendency to increased weight in men and women of this age.

The sedentary life so often indulged in by individuals of this age aids in undesirable changes of the body. In addition to this, too many of this age indulge in tempting dishes, such as candy, ice-cream and pastries. These foods in moderation are good for young adults, but are of little value to older and less active individuals.

As middle age is approached, an adjustment should be made in the manner of living. The consumption of meats, sweets and starchy foods should be decreased. Fruits and vegetables, particularly lettuce, tomatoes, carrots, oyster plant, celery and parsnips should be important factors in the diet. These items will aid in overcoming constipation and they will supply the necessary nourishment.

Water should be taken between meals, although there is no objection to a moderate amount at meals. Water should never be substituted for proper chewing of the food. It should not be used to wash down the food, but should be considered as a necessary part of the daily diet. Six to eight glasses of water should be consumed daily.

Individuals of this age tend toward kidney affections, hardening of the arteries, and to other degenerative changes. It is important, therefore, that salt be added in moderation. Highly seasoned food should be omitted from the diet.

Cold baths should be avoided unless the individual has been accustomed to taking them during his entire life. Individuals beyond forty should never indulge in strenuous competitive exercises.

However, habits of regular outdoor exercise, particularly walking, golf, hill climbing, rowing, hunting and other outdoor sports, are permissible. No exercise should be taken that results in over exertion or fatigue.

Parts of the Atom.

BY ARCHIBALD HENDERSON.

As new fields of research come into view and new claims are made for their recognition as sciences, the belief is more deeply confirmed that a subject approximates to science in proportion to the extent of its use of mathematics. Things must be measured, weighed, counted, registered, laws are finally established by classifying phenomena and arranging them, both by quality and quantity. Nature, in all of its manifestations, is somehow connected with number. We can not safely proceed without this reliance upon number.

Consider, for example, the primordial elements out of which the universe is made. After centuries, we are at last beginning to understand the nature of these building units. We can count them, describe them, study them, compare them with each other. What an enormous advance since the days of Aristotle, when there were supposed to be just four elements: Water, earth, air and fire.

For 2,000 years, approximately, these primitive ideas prevailed. The new light on these matters we owe in no small measure to Lavoisier, although Boyle had keen divinations of the truth. Then came into being the conception of the atom—meaning the indivisible.

Sixty years ago, a new epoch in the study of the constitution of matter was inaugurated by the brilliant Russian scientist, Dmitri Mendeleef. It was he who proposed the famous periodic law of chemical elements, by which the elements, arranged according to the magnitude of atomic weights, show a periodic change of properties. His catalog was carefully prepared on the basis of chemical valency; and he soon saw that there were a considerable number of blanks, which the scientists of the future, by their skill in research, must fill.

Indeed, Mendeleef had the faith of the great scientist—absolute confidence in his criteria. He ventured even to predict not only the existence, but also the properties of six new, hitherto undiscovered elements. His faith has been abundantly justified; for all six of these elements have since been found. They are, as now named, scandium, gallium, germanium, polonium, masurium and rhenium. Within fifteen years after Mendeleef's discovery the first three were discovered; the last two, however are comparatively recent discoveries

The atom no longer remains the primordial, primitive substance. The atom is made up of, or at least contains, sub-atomic "substances" or charges: the proton and the electron. As research proceeded and new discoveries were made, the fact emerged that atomic number, that is the number of electrons in an atom, is a more fundamental property than atomic weight. Atomic number is now the universal basis of classification. The list begins with hydrogen of atomic number one, and ends with uranium of atomic number ninety-two.

Mendeleef believed in the existence of chemical elements homologous to manganese; and to these he gave the names: eka-manganese and dvi-manganese. The former is now numbered forty-three, the latter seventy-five. Discovery of both was announced as late as 1925, by two German chemists, Walter Noddack and Ida Tacke. For these they proposed the names of masurium and rhenium, which were accepted by scientists. Much scepticism prevailed among chemists concerning rhenium; but this has been eliminated by the recent convincing researches of Dr. W. F. Meggers, of the United States Bureau of Standards. Only two elements in the atomic number scale still defy discovery: those to fill the blanks numbered eighty-five and eighty-seven. These furnish challenge and opportunity to scientists.—Copyright, 1931, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Days of Confusion in Columbus.

BY J. H. GALBRAITH.

Incidents in Columbus that followed immediately after the first call for troops for service in the Civil war, are laughable when looked back upon from this date, show how wholly unprepared the authorities of the state were to meet the demands of the time. Governor Dennison had appointed George W. Runyan, of Cincinnati, commissary general. Apparently he had no military training, and did not comprehend the task that had been assigned to him.

It is hard to believe now, but his idea was, and in it the council at the long table in the governor's office seemed to agree, that the proper thing was to accommodate the soldiers at the hotels. Nothing was too good for the men who had offered their services. That was the general sentiment. So, with Lucien Buttles as his guide General Runyan started out to interview the hotel proprietors. The Goodale house would give reduced rates and could take one company at $1.25 a day a man. Done.

Four other hotels did likewise—some with rates a little lower, but with the troops arriving in increasing numbers this could not be continued. That was obvious. A Mr. Butler was willing to contract for feeding the men for fifty cents a day, but soon he had to admit that he was overwhelmed, and could not carry out his agreement.

The soldiers coming from the comforts of home complained bitterly of the food and their accommodations. The newspapers joined in the complaint, taking the side of the soldiers. The legislature adopted a resolution calling for General Runyan's resignation. Governor Dennison stood by his appointee.

General C. P. Buckingham, the adjutant general, was a volatile character, and action from his office was calculated to get everybody and everything still further up in the air. Dennison then felt the need of a trained officer and asked the war department to assign Lieutenant W. B. Hazen, in after years head of the signal service, but Secretary of War Cameron testily replied that he had no time to detail second lieutenants. But that is the way it worked out. The army sent trained men to establish and organize camps for the reception and care of the new troops and order was gradually worked out of chaos.

COLUMBUS, O., May 25 — Operators of the dog racing track at Grove City near here, were to confer today on whether they will fight the edict of Sheriff Harry Paul that greyhound racing, with its accompanying "contribution" betting, will not be tolerated in Franklin county. The track owners were to meet with their attorney, Arthur Woe. The sheriff's attitude was revealed when he appeared at the track with 24 deputies and waited for the "contribution" windows to open so he could make arrests. But the track owners kept the windows closed, and instead ran the nine scheduled races solely for exhibition purposes.

About 2,500 persons had gone to the track to bet.

Government Economy Program Kept Going

Hoover's Plan To Save $38,000,000 in Postoffice Department Annually Is Latest Step.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, May 25—The government's economy drive has not lost its momentum although tentative savings of considerably more than $75,000,000 already have been agreed upon.

Presidential approval yesterday of plans to save about $38,000,000 this year in the postoffice department was the latest step in the pruning campaign. The war and interior departments have agreed to savings. Treasury and justice have been instructed to see how they can cut expenses and report to the president.

In his third week-end especially devoted to the problem, President Hoover learned at his Rapidan, Va. camp that postoffice economies initiated last summer will save near $38,000,000 out of an $843,000,000 appropriation for the present fiscal year ending next June 30. In the next financial year $15,000,000 net is to be saved.

An official announcement on the conference said the latter figure took into consideration a $13,000,000 increase in expenses that would result from enforcement of the 44-hour work week law passed by the last congress. Economies in the next year are expected to reach $28,000,000, leaving the net of $15,000,000.

A comprehensive program to increase efficiencies was formulated in the conference which Postmaster General Brown and the four assistant postmasters general had with the President. It will not cause decreased personnel or salary cuts.

The exterior department intends to save $17,000,000 to $19,000,000 while the army consolidation campaign, involving the disposal of 53 military posts, will add to the economies.

Meanwhile, Secretary Mellon, in the ace of decreasing income and a prospective deficit of $800,000,000 this year, called for revision of the tax system. He also said another deficit could be expected next year.

Last Thursday the deficit was $985,670,314

INDIANAPOLIS, May 25—The fastest speed trial of the nineteen who have qualified to date for the 500-mile race here Saturday, was turned in at the Indianapolis motor speedway yesterday by Billy Arnold of Chicago, last year's winner and present American driving champion.

Arnold turned the course for 10 miles at an average of 116.080 miles per hour, but will start the race in the sixth row because of a ruling that all first day qualifiers take precedence.

The only other qualified yesterday was Tony Gulotta, who whirled his part-stock speedster over the bricks at an average of 111.725 miles per hour.

The trials were halted by speedway officials after the racer driven by W. F. (Sparky) Sparks of Indianapolis, caught fire on the back stretch, hit the lower retaining wall, and was nearly destroyed. Sparks and his mechanic Richard Crombie of Indianapolis, escaped unhurt.

morning in the intensive drive after an early bird breakfast at the Marion club, attended by 185 men and women.

Appeals to Marionites

Campaign Chairman Wilbur H. Symes this morning appealed to all Marionites to receive the fund workers courteously, and to give conscientiously. "Most of you," Symes said in his appeal to the public, "give to every deserving project. Remember this appeal is not for one agency, but for nine deserving agencies, and that your subscriptions must finance these nine agencies for 12 months."

"The final stages of the campaign are here," Symes said in addressing the workers. The success or failure of the drive is now in your hands. Nothing short of the $73,397 goal will be considered success. You're sold on Community Fund and what its nine agencies have accomplished. Sell the story to the public, and give every Marionite an opportunity to contribute toward the assistance of his less fortunate neighbor."

Chairman Symes introduced Rev. L. A. Wood, head of the men's division, who declared the workers must "pitch into this drive with bull-dog determination" if success is to be attained.

"Although I believe and want you to realize that the situation is serious this year, I am confident that success will be ours," Rev. Wood said. "See every person, get new subscriptions, and increase the gifts of last year's subscribers," he urged.

Mrs. H. K. Mouser, head of the women's division, also predicted success for the campaign.

Last minute instructions were given by W. S. Edmund, campaign director. He urged the workers to cover their ground thoroughly and to systematize their work.

Introduces Officers

Chairman Symes introduced Community Fund heads and officers of the 1931 drive, including Frank D. Glosser, president; H. B. Hane, head of the big gifts committee; A. W. Newby, head of the employes division; Morgan E. Burke, head of the foreign corporations committee; M. L. McDaniel, chairman of the budget committee; Rev. L. A. Wood and Mrs. H. K. Mouser, heads of the territorial armies

Before hearing their final instructions, the workers were served a breakfast of grapefruit, bacon and eggs, toast and coffee. Each worker pays for his or her own breakfast and report luncheons. Invocation was pronounced by Dr. C. E. Turley.

Dick's Commanders, a local orchestra, contributed their services to furnish music during the breakfast this morning. The orchestra is composed of Richard Myers, Frederick Myers, Joseph Kohler, William Sifritt, Robert Stanley, James Jobe, Fred Sabback, Jack Weil, Thomas Murtaugh, Warren Ullom and John Zachman.

TRIAL NEARS END

Jury To Get Kirkland Murder Case Some Time Tuesday.

By The Associated Press

VALPARAISO, Ind., May 25—The Virgil Kirkland murder trial entered its third and final week today.

By Wednesday, the ex-football player expected to know whether a jury decrees him guilty or innocent of the death of Arlene Draves at a Gary, Ind., party last November.

The battery of attorneys marshaled for the trial had been allotted all of today and most of tomorrow to present closing arguments. The jurors were to receive the case by tomorrow night.

It was the defense contention that Kirkland had not attacked the girl; that he had not struck her or mistreated her.

The prosecution held to its charge that blows and an attack by the youth caused Arlene's death.

More than $600 was netted by the American Legion auxiliary in the annual poppy sale sponsored by the organization Saturday. QUEEN HELEN EXILED FROM ROYAL FAMILY

Divorced Wife of King Carol Shorn of Royalty by Decree.

By The Associated Press

BUCHAREST, Rumania, May 25—Queen Helen, estranged wife of King Carol and mother of Crown Prince Michael, has been expelled from the royal family.

The newspaper Patria, official organ of the Zaranist party, reveals that a decree is being drafted for submittance to the new parliament, confirming her exclusion and stating she is no longer entitled to the rights and honors accorded royalty.

War Minister Stephanescu already has issued to the army an order, authorized by Premier Jorga forbidding observance of the queen's saint day next Thursday.

Parliament is expected to adopt the measure as soon as it assembles and Queen Helen will leave the country permanently soon thereafter.

Helen divorced Carol while he was in exile in 1928 with Mlle. Magda Lupescu

MADRID QUIET

City Worship Without Disorder First Sunday of Religious Equality.

By The Associated Press

MADRID, May 25—Although a greater number of persons received communion, Madrid worshipped much the same as usual on the first Sunday since the issuance of the decree on religious freedom.

The churches and cathedrals were crowded as always with women making up most of the congregations. No untoward events were reported as a revolt of the granting of equal privileges to all creeds.

It was felt in some quarters that while Catholicism may no longer be the official religion of the state it will continue to be the favored faith among the masses, judging from the reaction to the recent outbreaks against the church.

ROMANS GETS SECOND STAY

Appellate Court Gives Attorneys More Time To Prepare Appeal.

Special to The Star

MT GILEAD May 25—The district appellate court has granted a request for a suspension of the execution of the sentence of one to five years in the penitentiary which Judge W. P. Vaughan of the common pleas court here passed on O. C. Romans following his conviction of embezzling $7,750 of the funds of the Morrow County Farmers Mutual Insurance Co. while acting as secretary and treasurer of the company.

The stay granted by Judge Vaughan to enable the defense attorneys to file a motion for a new trial with the appellate court expired Thursday and Romans would have been committed to the penitentiary Friday if the appellate court had not granted the indefinite stay pending the consideration of the case by the higher court.

MAIN STREET WORK NEARS COMPLETION

Alley and Driveway Intersections To Be Smoothed Out, Director Says.

With the exception of alley and driveway intersections which are still to be feathered down, the resurfacing of Main street from Columbia to the gates of the Marion cemetery, was completed Saturday, Service Director D. J. Harlow said today. At each alley and driveway intersection it will be necessary to extend the amisite for two or three feet back from the street, to avoid the abrupt drop from the new surface.

The work which was completed in eight days and required the laying of 13,000 yards of the paving material, established a record in street resurfacing here.

Working of covering the unpaved streets with oil and tar will be started in a short time the service director said this morning. Oil will be placed on the dirt streets and tar on the hard surfaced streets. The boulevard extending from Delaware avenue to Prospect street through McKinley park, will be resurfaced with two coats, one a binder and the second of an asphalt mixture which, the service director said, will give it a surface similar to amisite and will be waterbound. The work will be completed before the dedication on June 16.

"Heart of a Wife"

—BY ADELE GARRISON—

Mike Learns that the Letter Has Disappeared.

BEFORE I had a chance to answer Dicky's question, Lillian [illegible] the trouble.

"Will you please prove to your [illegible] world that you are not the [illegible] champion moron, Dicky-[illegible] she queried. "If that isn't [illegible] her bring a woman out of [illegible] fit and then begin to [illegible] her with questions. She'll [illegible] I fancy, when she's able to [illegible] her head up. All I know is [illegible] started to Southampton on [illegible] and for me. Why she came [illegible] I don't know."

"I meant to tell you," Mrs. Ticer [illegible] and I listened with my [illegible] in my mouth, wondering if [illegible] would speak of my telephone [illegible] message to New York. But she was [illegible] discreet from her own volition because Lillian had given [illegible] a signaling look, I did not [illegible] which. But at any rate her [illegible] flowed steadily on with no embarrassing revelations.

Mrs. Ticer Explains All

She had started for Southampton, she said, "and her car broke down, a blowout. Then she walked back here, poor dear—she was almost suffocated out when she got here. I made her lie down and fixed her some coffee, and Ticer went after the car. I told her to lie still and I'd go over and tell your father about the Chinese. Miss Graham didn't want you to worry about her, didn't want me even to say she was here. But I thought I'd better say that, and you all rushed me back so quick—and I can't wonder—that I didn't have time to explain anything. I'm afraid she's slipping off again."

The last words were in a lower and more frightened tone to Lillian. But I had closed my eyes from fatigue, not from faintness, and I spoke quickly, reassuringly.

"No, I am perfectly all right," I said. "Who's watching the man?"

The Sovereign Remedy

Mr. Ticer. Don't you remember darling?" Dicky's voice was chastened and I know that Lillian's bumblebee tactics had succeeded. He would ask no more questions until I was able to answer them. I smiled up at him and uttered a plea of my own.

"Won't you go and see what Mr. Ticer has done?" and Dicky rose promptly, though reluctantly.

"Are you sure you'll——" he asked, but my father took his arm.

"Best humor her, Richard," he advised gravely. "And she'll be all right with Mrs. Underwood and Mrs. Ticer."

He smiled down at me, with face that was still white and lined with [illegible] which I knew he had

"I'll make some fresh coffee," Mrs. Ticer offered, her sovereign remedy for all occasions, and she bustled out to the kitchen.

"Well! girl!" Lillian smiled down at me. "Spill whatever's on your mind, but don't use many words. Quiet is the watchword for you, for awhile."

"I'm all right," I protested. "But — I don't want Dicky to know about that letter to Jack."

"Why should he?"

"Mr. Ticer will probably tell him I telephoned from here."

"Suppose that he does. Ticer doesn't know anything about the message, does he?"

"No. I don't even know that he knows I talked to New York."

"Then why worry? You telephoning doesn't mean a thing to the Dicky-bird. He knows you run to a telephone when you have a moment's leisure, in the same way that your great-grandmother probably picked up her knitting and knited a few rounds. As long as he doesn't think you knew that the Chinese would be here, he won't bother his head about anything. He's simply sore because he thought you ran into danger without letting him in on it."

"But I didn't," I protested. "I didn't know——"

"Save your breath," she admonished. "He'll be back presently, and when you're able to, we'll have to find out about this mysterious Chinese goose-stepping at your command through the cornfield. I have to slip it you, old girl. You surely have a way with you. I'll bet no conservative Chinese ever did that stunt before at the bidding of a slender, titian-haired beauty. Now you shut your eyes and don't talk any more until they come in. As soon as Mrs. Ticer has the hot coffee ready, I'll see that you have a cupful."

Where Is the Letter?

It seemed but a few seconds afterward that our hospitable hostess appeared.

"It won't be so good," she apologized, "for I didn't wait for fresh water to boil, just took what was in the tea kettle. But I judged you wouldn't want me to wait so long."

"You judged correctly," Lillian told her, and propping my head against her arm she made me drink a cupful of the coffee. It strengthened and revived me as coffee always does, so that when Dicky and my father came in a few minutes later I was not upset by Dicky's excited demand:

"What's this about a Chinese letter pinned to the cushion of your car? Let's see it!

I unclosed my hand in which for
